

Don't Let The Business Suit and Pearls Fool You

This newcomer has spent the past six months working towards making her dream a reality. On most days you would find her quickly changing from blue jeans and a tee shirt, replacing her hammer and broom needed for building racks and cleaning her building to a sketch pad, ink pen and a business suit. While greeting building inspectors, advertising executives and designers is important, her main focus was, and is, to offer a quality hand carved product that will be desired by builders, cabinet makers and designers in one of the fastest growing markets today.

While enlisting the help and support of her husband, father, and a small group of friends she has recently opened an office in Georgia specializing in the design and production of hand carved architectural and other decorative products.

Her new company, Xiao Lee Imports, Inc. (pronounced "Chow Lee") was established with the goal of offering the finest quality wood carvings using factory direct services to guarantee competitive prices and excellent customer service.

Partnered with a factory in China that has specialized for over twenty years in the design and production of hand carved architectural and other decorative wood products, the vision is now complete. With a warehouse full of a complete line of hand carved architectural mouldings, corbels, onlays and appliques, newels, balusters, corner posts and other furniture parts in a variety of Western designs she is now in the position to ship the required product within a few hours of receiving an order.

Most of the production is in linden (basswood) which is stable and easily painted or stained. "Harvested from our own forest and using state-of-the-art kilns have provided us with the capability to dry our own lumber, thus giving us direct control over its moisture content, resulting in increased stability of our line of products", she *mouldings

newel posts & balusters column legs
onlays corbels capitals*

adds. However, carvings in other species to include maple, oak and cherry are available upon request.

Their newly expanded factory has a floor area of 122,000 square feet and employs 300 craftsmen and other workmen using skills passed on to them by their forefathers to create a line of absolutely stunning “works of art”.

In October 2007, Xiao Lee Imports will add hand carved rope mouldings, fireplace surrounds and a variety of crafted frames to its increasing line of products.

While being quite happy with the positive responses so far, she welcomes the opportunity to discuss a future business relationship with you and your company.

Call her today or visit www.xiaoleeimports.com to get more information. She is pleased to provide samples of her designs and associated prices or will supply you with a quote on your custom design.

Deborah S. McCollum,
President
Xiao Lee Imports, Inc.
1615 E. Broad Avenue
Albany, Georgia 31705
(229) 438-6044

